BAPTISTS TO BUILD CHURCH ON NEW SITE

Reach Decision After Disastrous Fire; Fund Drive Is Planned

Plans for construction of a new church building on another site were formulated at a meeting of the Baptist church last night in the Presbyterian church.

The group of 65 men decided not to rebuild the 76-year-old brick structure at State and S. Lincoln which was damaged beyond repair by fire early Saturday. Insurance adjusters have declared the building a complete loss.

The present site will be sold and a new building will be planned for another site not yet selected. The church owns the brick residence property on E. State st., just east of McKinley school, but no decision has been reached on the use of this site for the new church edifice.

An early estimate of the cost of a new church placed the figure at $150,000 to $175,000.

To meet this cost, the church has a building fund of slightly more than $20,000 and fire insurance on the old building will add $13,500, making a total of about $34,000.

Fund Drive Planned

A public campaign for building funds was authorized at last night's meeting. Committees were appointed to launch the drive immediately.

Committee meetings to get plans started followed the general meeting. All committee actions are subject to church approval, Rev. R. J. Hunter, the pastor, said.

These committees were appointed: Sale of property—Fred Blevins, Dave Bevan, L. S. Richards, Charles Leach, Frank Prudery, Howard Joltz and M. H. Critchfield.

Fund solicitation—James Hayden, Dr. Leroy Hartsough, Merle Miller, Frank Weitz, Lester Oiler, Clyde Williams and M. P. Livingstone.

Advertising and publicity—Louis Raymond, Donald Hammell, Lee Taylor, Robert Snyder, Robert Bennett, William Bowker, Raymond Grove and Reed Calkins.

New church design—Richard Strling, William Sprout, E. C. Hammeil, John Gealy, Dr. Clarence Hartsough, Robert Eddy and Robert Vickers.

Murder Case Goes To Jury Thursday

LISBON, April 9—Cross-examination of Erwin Brown of Irontale, charged with the murder of his wife, Beulah, and Brady Petty in East Liverpool last December, was in process this morning with two more witnesses slated to take the stand this afternoon.

The case probably will be given to the jury sometime Thursday, after state and defense attorneys call doctors to the stand and present final arguments.

Brown testified yesterday afternoon, claiming telling him he shot the pair when he found them in the bedroom of an East Liverpool rooming house.

As Ground Was Broken For New City Hospital Addition

$325,000 PROJECT TO INCREASE BED CAPACITY TO 105

Modern Annex To Include Latest Equipment In New Departments

Excavation was started last week preparatory to the construction of a three-story addition to Salem City hospital that will increase the adult bed capacity to 105 and provide new and larger departments for adequate care of a constantly increasing patient load.

The new building, 110 by 42 feet, will be a wing to the south, or rear of the present three-story building. It will be fireproof, of modern design and built of the same material as the present structure.

The new wing is expected to be ready for occupancy by the end of this year.

Cost of construction and new equipment is expected to reach nearly $325,000. Contract price for the new building is $149,480, plumbing and heating $40,400, and electrical work $26,587.55.

This brings the total cost of the new wing to $216,467.55. Equipment and architect's fees will mean another $100,000.

Building Fund Grows

To date the building fund totals more than $200,000. Early in May a public campaign will attempt to raise the balance. Pledges may be paid within two or three years.

The new wing will provide additional space for:

- One more surgical suite and necessary equipment, with adequate dressing rooms for doctors.
- Gift of a new operating table and light has been made as a memorial by "a friend of the hospital," at a cost of $2,100. Other memorials also have been given.
- New sterilizing equipment.
- Larger obstetrical department.
- New central supply room.
- X-ray and laboratory departments will have larger space and will be moved to the first floor.
- New emergency room, morgue and autopsy room.
- More private and semi-private rooms.
- Larger administrative offices, reception room and treatment rooms.
- Double Maternity Ward.

Besides increasing the bed capacity by about 40 beds, the maternity ward will be doubled, with twice as many bassinets as at present.

The ground floor will provide space for emergency room, X-ray and laboratory departments.

On the first floor will be beds and wards; second floor, surgical department, with two operating rooms, central supply room and semi-private and private rooms; third floor, maternity department, with two delivery rooms.

Lisbon Council Restricts Department On Fire Calls

LISBON, April 9—As the aftermath of three calls to the Lisbon volunteer fire department to fight grass fires in the rural areas the past week, council has decreed that no calls will be answered beyond 1,000-feet of the village limits, as the town is left without fire protection when the department is on such calls.

It is planned to purchase a new chassis for the old fire truck, however, which would be on call for fires in the rural area, and arrangements probably will be made for center township trustees to contract for services of the department.

Sinatra, Bobby Soxers Idol, Clashes With Movie Columnist

(By Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, April 9—Frank Sinatra, the crooning idol of the bobby soxers, took an assortment of pokes at Lee Mortimer, 42, movie columnist for the New York Daily Mirror, at Ciro's night club late last night, Mortimer told sheriff's deputies today.

Mortimer appeared at the West Hollywood sheriff's station, his head bruised and, Sheriff's Deputy R. I. Wright said, claimed Sinatra "and three heavies" set upon him without warning, knocking him down and pummeling him.

Subsequently a representative of Sinatra said the fracas was set off when Sinatra overheard Mortimer call him an unprintable name, climaxing the crooner's two-year irritation over articles Mortimer had written about him.

Mortimer told reporters and the deputies:

"I was leaving Ciro's with Miss Kay Kimo, a band singer, when Sinatra and three men jumped me. The first thing I knew, I was on the floor and the next thing I knew was when I saw a face that looked like Sinatra's above me."

The columnist conceded that in various columns he had been less than complimentary to Sinatra.

Deputy Wright said Mortimer announced he would return today.

250 Passengers Shaken Up In Train Collision

CANTON, April 9—A fireman was overcome by smoke and 250 passengers shaken up last night when the Pennsylvania railroad's Chicago to New York Manhattan Limited collided with a freight train here.

Derailment of two engines and six of the Limited's 14 cars, plus several cars of the freight train, followed the collision.

W. K. Sennett of Crestline, engineer of the passenger train, said the Limited was traveling 40 miles an hour when the accident occurred.

Trainmen believed the accident occurred when a swaying box-car leaned over too far and was struck by the first of the passenger engines.

John Hermick, 31, of Rochester, Pa., fireman on one of the Limited's locomotives, was overcome while battling a blaze in his cab. He was released after receiving emergency treatment at a hospital.

Explains Forestry Program In County

Forestry work in Columbiana county encourages farmers to plant trees furnished by the state for economic advantages and for conservation of resources for recreation and hunting purposes.

This was the message given the Rotary club Tuesday by Herbert Maturen, county forester. This county was one of the first in the state to launch a forestry program.

Maturen said red and white pine, black walnut, oak and other native trees were recommended. Plantings on abandoned strip mining lands have not been successful, he said, adding that more research in this direction is needed.

Forestry work is a part of the county agricultural extension service. Maturen was presented to the club by John Gonda, program chairman.

Five men were involved in the escape attempt, Huggins reported, adding that two were captured as they went out through a different door.

Still at large were John Zoltick, Nathaniel Green and Charles Frizzi.

PLAN REVISION OF BOUNDARY

Change of German-Polish Frontier Is Urged By U. S., Britain

(By Associated Press)

MOSCOW, April 9—Britain and the United States proposed to the council of foreign ministers tonight a revision in the present German-Polish frontier to put agricultural lands inside Germany, but Russia opposed any changes.

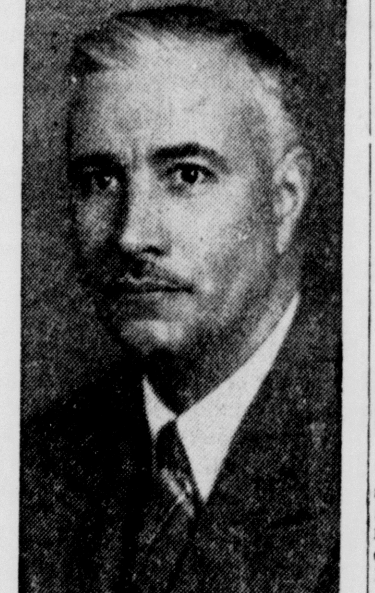

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault proposed the whole question be studied further but he did not commit France as being in favor or opposed to present German boundaries.

Secretary of State Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin quoted heretofore secret speeches of Prime Minister Stalin at Potsdam to show that the generalissimo did not consider as final the present administrative Polish border—set at the Oder and Neisse rivers by the Big Three Potsdam conference.

Marshall suggested the commission also study measures "to assure that the natural and industrial resources in question 'shall fairly serve' the economic needs of Europe."

"It will be accepted, I think," Marshall told the conference, "that southern East Prussia should become Polish territory; German Upper Silesia and its industrial complex should become Polish, but there should be provisions to assure that its coal and other resources should be available to help sustain the economy of Europe."

NEGOTIATORS HOLD NIGHT, DAY SESSIONS

101 - Point Contract Is Drafted For Ending Long Lines Tie-up

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 9—A crack in the telephone strike deadlock was reported possible within hours today as negotiations went on with day and night sessions.

Persons in close touch with the negotiations on long distance lines phases of the national dispute said the only obstacle to a strike-settling agreement for that industry segment was:

Who will pay the cost of arbitrating about five issues between American Telephone and Telegraph company's long distance division and the American Union of Telephone Workers.

Meet Again At 3

With that question settled, the informants said, the proposed agreement could be referred to the policy committee of the 49-union National Federation of Telephone Workers for approval. The policy committee scheduled a meeting at 3 p. m.

An agreement as to long distance lines would leave strikes of various local Bell system operators unsettled but might pave the way for settlement of the entire strike.

As for the money to pay arbitration costs, these informants predicted:

"It will come from somewhere."

Contract Drafted

At a night session running far into the morning, it was learned, federal conciliators wrote a 101-point contract for the long-lines dispute. It would have left a few of the national issues to be settled by arbitration.

Then the question arose of who would pay arbitration costs which might run $20,000.

The unions said they couldn't and the Labor department said it lacked the appropriations to do it. The questions to be submitted to arbitration in the proposed settlement all involve money, the informants said, although they did not specify the exact issues other than to say that the NFTW's demand for a $12 weekly increase was among them.

Top flight arbitrators get $100 a day, and the record would cost another $200, the union figured, making a total of $500 a day. The case would run about 40 days, the bargaining committee for the 20,000 long lines workers said.

As a compromise the union offered to assess its members $1 apiece, if the company would check it off the workers' paychecks. This the company refused to do, and the stalemate on that point forced postponement of the negotiations until 10 a. m.

School Board's Proposal Filed With Election Board

The Cassandras Have It

Walter Lippmann, in the gloomiest of many gloomy forecasts about the postwar shape of things, says economic collapse in Europe is imminent and that Great Britain is on the brink of disaster now. He warns that the United States must face the Soviet Union alone on Europe's battlefields, unless unprecedented measures are taken.

"To prevent the crisis which will otherwise engulf Europe and spread chaos through the world," Lippmann declares, "the measures will have to be very large—in Europe no less than an economic union, and over here no less than the equivalent of a revival of lend-lease."

The source of so much gloom, which could be relieved only by measures not likely to be taken, is presumably Lippmann's own information about Europe, which can't be disputed. But it is tempting to wonder about the possible relation between mood and conclusion. The mood of the American people is gloomy. The outlook is desyncetic. If the atom bomb doesn't get us, something else will.

Disintegration of Europe is only a detail in the economic morbidity of the times, another jot of evidence that the knell of doom is overdue. The Cassandras have the floor, and suddenly their prophecies of evil all seem believable. Europe is going, going, going and nothing can be done about it. Armageddon will follow in due time.

Still, this is a nation of violent extremes. After World War I, Europe had been redeemed and made safe for democracy. We were wrong about that. We could be wrong again. A mood of despondency could be coloring conclusions—even conclusions of Walter Lippmann.

Unsafe For Organized Labor

The leading competitor in the standing contest to discover new talking points for organized labor's boss bargainers is John L. Lewis. The reason for his prestige has just been made evident again.

With scarcely more than a flick of a cigar ash, he has added "unsafe for organized labor" to the arsenal of collective bargaining weapons. The government, which proved recently to Mr. Lewis that he couldn't conduct a work stoppage against it, is now confronted with the fact that thousands of miners are not mining coal because he says some mines are unsafe.

In other words, Mr. Lewis is conducting a work stoppage of a certain kind on a talking point of safety. No matter what gentle phrases or generous thoughts may be applied to the matter, this is a vivid demonstration of Mr. Lewis' personal power. Coal mines did not, after all, become unsafe this month, this year, or even this century.

Other labor leaders always have been quick to flatter Mr. Lewis with imitation whenever he came out with a good idea. The sidestroke, which he thought up; the welfare fund, which he perfected; portal-to-portal pay—these are monuments to his ingenuity.

Pickets soon will be carrying signs—"This Place Unsafe for Organized Labor." John L. Lewis, the winner of his latest brush with the government and still the champion of all the slogan-makers and idea-designers, has added something new to collective bargaining issues.

Congressional Dessert

Word from Washington is that the season for junkets is on. This is entirely apart from the fact that the racing season has opened in nearby Maryland.

Congressmen go on junkets to far places of the world to "study conditions" and "evaluate procedures." If they take their wives along and have a little pleasure, well, why not? All work and no play and it wouldn't be a junket.

Junkets are now in progress to Egypt, Panama and California. Some of the cost is borne by the junketers personally but detailed reports are never made public. The last Congress set a record for its junkets. More than 100 representatives were in Europe or the Pacific just after the end of the war. On some Pacific islands there seemed to be as many congressmen as soldiers and sailors.

The word "junket" originally meant a cream-cheese dessert, but the dictionary says it now also means "a pleasure expedition or outing at which eating and drinking are prominent." There's nothing like a junket to top off a drab meal or a dull legislative session.

Please Let It Alone

Experimenters monkeying with the manufacture of weather must excuse us for having butterflies on the stomach and palpitation of the heart.

They have gone aloft with 17 pounds of dry ice and precipitated snow and rain weighing hundreds of tons. If they can do that with a basketful of the stuff, what might they do with a truckload?

We don't believe human beings are smart enough to be trusted with weather-making. The threadbare quip that everybody talks about weather but nobody does anything about it is one of the most comforting things we can think of, because we were getting along all right while everybody just talked about releasing the energy in atom.

Eventually, men may be smart enough to handle weather. Until then, please let it alone. This way if it rains there's no one to blame but nature. No commissions or committees must be set up in a futile effort to keep men and nations out of mischief. We'll never complain about the weather again if those fellows will quit experimenting with it.

In India a man claimed he was lifted from bed and thrown out a window by ghosts. It does sound like the work of strong spirits.

The Stars Say

For Thursday, April 10

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

THE indications for this day are rather of a contradictory and conflicting nature. Affairs move, referring to position, work, promotion, tokens of preferment from superiors, employers or others in high place and influence, as well as those personally friendly and desiring to be of service. Yet there are portents of a devastating and sorrowful nature. This may pertain to personal affectional, domestic or romantic affiliations, where suspicion, jealousy or strife may produce estrangements.

Birthday Forecast

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a year of advancement, success in employment and in the good graces of employers or superiors, with many friendly and sympathetic contacts in a business way. However, the personal element is critical, with signs of estrangement, separation, and strife mainly born of jealousy, suspicion, ill report or other aggravating circumstances, upsetting the confidence, harmony and peace of domestic, affectional and romantic ties, unless these be wisely and graciously managed.

A child born on this day, while having talent and ambition to win support of their superiors, yet has a menace of devastating and regrettable circumstances in their domestic, social or heart interests.

With some people praying they won't catch cold and others suffering from one, this is a season of prayer and medication.

The Nation Today

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, April 9—We will vote $400,000,000 in aid to Greece and Turkey to stop the spread of Communism.

Congress seems certain to ram this through, but not without some acid debate. The senate starts debating today.

We will make this move for our own safety, whether or not Russia likes it.

To many, perhaps most, people in this country all this may seem like a good and necessary step.

But there are people in this country and elsewhere, particularly in Russia, who will question its goodness or its need.

By making this move, and not caring whether Russia likes it, we take our position as the No. 1 world power, ready to act to prove it.

And that's where those who don't like this new role for the United States start asking questions:

We step into European affairs with money, arms and military advisers to help Greece and Turkey.

Suppose Russia tried to do just that in Argentina, sending over money, arms and red army advisers.

What would we do? We'd put a stop to it. We'd point to the Monroe doctrine which says European powers can't interfere in American affairs.

Doesn't that seem a contradiction and unfair?

We'll argue: No. We set up the Monroe doctrine to protect our security and we're going into Greece and Turkey for the same reason.

So we'll say: We're just extending the Monroe doctrine to Europe. In this we're being consistent, not contradictory.

What it boils down to is: We're big enough—bigger than anyone—to do what we want, and we'll do it to suit our purposes.

That's just one question, although a big one. Here's another:

The United Nations, with our help, was created to try to keep peace in the world through the friendly cooperation of all nations.

But President Truman did not tell the U. N. what we wanted to do when, on March 12, he asked congress for $400,000,000 for Greece and Turkey.

He just said U. N. couldn't do the kind of job that was needed. As the realization of what all this meant sank into people's minds, voices were raised in this country that we were by-passing U. N. and maybe destroying it.

This bothered a great many people, including senators who wanted to vote the aid. So in time this plan was fashioned:

We'll go ahead and help out Greece and Turkey. Later on we'll stop giving the aid if the U. N. thinks we should stop.

But—are we going to present the plan to U. N. in such form that future U. N. opposition to our actions is helpless and useless?

Congress will have to decide just how much power, in positive language, it's willing to let U. N. have over our European actions.

Further: If enough nations are friendly to the United States, or indebted for favors, U. N. isn't likely to tell us to quit Greek-Turkish aid.

But suppose at some future time Russia reverses the tables and starts pouring money and arms into a European country without consulting U. N. until later.

Will we charge Russia with trying to wreck U. N.? or what do we do? or are we here beginning to chop the foundations out from under U. N.?

When we talk of empowering

U. N. to stop our aid abroad, our sincerity will be judged by the way we do it.

And there's this third important question:

Do we stop trying to halt Communism's march when we help Greece and Turkey? Or where do we go from there? For how long?

At what cost?

In short, from now on do we step in to help any country which cries that it's in danger of going Communist? If not, where do we draw the line? No one knows.

We're starting upon a world adventure whose end no man can see.

7 Percent of Vets Pursue Education

CLEVELAND, April 8—Results of a nationwide survey reveal the "distressing" and "pitiful" fact that only seven percent of the country's ex-servicemen have taken advantage of educational rights guaranteed them under the G. I. Bill of Rights. Robert H. Owens, national known vets' educator, reported today.

Asserting that the time limit on the G. I. bill opportunities soon would pass, the president of the Veterans Educational council of the National Education association said only 1,777,541 of the nation's 14,447,000 former servicemen were enrolled in schools under the bill's benefits.

Owen cited the disinterest of "patriotic" organizations, the availability of jobs and the lack of facilities in small communities as causes of the small percentage of vets taking advantage of educational benefits.

O. Ohio's 851,000 ex-servicemen and women, Owens said, a total of 432,000 had no high school diploma, but only 20,000 have enrolled in schools outside a college campus since their discharge.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

One-Sided Facial Paralysis

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE one-sided paralysis of the face, known as Bell's palsy, is a much more common ailment than most people realize.

It may be due to a disease or accident, but by far the most common cause is exposure of the side of the face to a draft of cold air, as in driving.

It has been estimated that 75 percent of the cases due to cold recover even without treatment. Drs. H. P. Pickerill and C. M. Pickerill of New Zealand, state that the other 25 percent end up with permanently paralyzed muscles and real disfigurement.

Proper Treatment

Since it is impossible to say in advance who will recover and who will not, it is important that all those with Bell's palsy be given proper treatment.

The chief thing which interferes with recovery of the paralyzed muscles is their continued overstretching by the normal muscles on the opposite side of the face.

In order to keep this overstretching from occurring it is suggested that the face muscles be strapped. In doing this, the lower half of the paralyzed side is first covered with a thin layer of oil or petrolatum. Then two strips of adhesive tape about half an inch wide are applied on the opposite side of the face starting at about the level of the lip. These adhesive straps are then brought round to the opposite side and fastened back of the ear.

This tape is not removed until the condition is overcome. If it becomes soiled, fresh adhesive tape can be applied over it. At the end of a week or ten days the patient attempts to make movements of the paralyzed side of his face.

Massage and Exercise

Massage and exercise often do no good because this may result in overstretching of the affected muscle. At the end of the third week if it does not look as if patient is recovering, the muscles may be stimulated with a weak electrical current.

However, this must not be overdone since it will cause tiring of the muscles. If the current causes any painful sensation, it is too strong.

This treatment is carried out daily. It may be necessary to carry out the treatment for a period of two to three months, although some patients may recover within a week.

Bell's palsy may be produced by injuries or by tumors. Of course, in such cases surgical treatment may be needed.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Columbiana Hears Talk On Europe At Public Meeting

COLUMBIANA, April 9.—Newton H. Bell of San Francisco, traveler, lecturer and radio commentator, gave in the High school auditorium Monday evening the last of four lectures sponsored by the Rotary club.

"Is Cooperation Possible?" was the general theme of the series. Mr. Bell's subject Monday evening was "Getting Together in Europe."

A veteran of both world wars, the speaker took up each European country separately, dwelling on its characteristics and its suffering from war. He said misunderstandings between countries were largely due to lack of knowledge of each others customs and that all people are basically the same.

Russia, he said, is incapable of waging war on a modern scale, and that the Russian people don't want war any more than we do. Dealing with the Russian diplomats he held a good job, which he believed would eventuate in a satisfactory settlement.

Tells of Welfare Work

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduces the red-blood strength — and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

"Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health."

Scores House After Vote On Labor Appropriations

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Senator McCarran (D-Nev) Monday accused the house of acting to "destroy" the law by voting to wipe out the Labor department's Bureau of Labor Standards which, he said, was set up under a specific statute.

"If we enact such a law we have to contemplate that it requires appropriations," McCarran declared. "If we destroy a statute by failing to appropriate it is defeating the will of congress."

McCarran spoke up after William L. Connolly, bureau director, told a senate appropriations subcommittee that eliminating the units industrial safety program would leave the government sitting "idly by" while workers are "needlessly killed and maimed."

Connolly's plea for restoration of $625,857 in funds for the bureau opened a Labor department fight to restore a 40 per cent cut which the house voted in the departments operating funds. It would sweep away scores of strike-mediation experts.

MATERNITY DRESSES SMARTLY STYLED

Left, coral and aqua quilted crepe jerkin; center, pure silk print dress; right, lime colored crepe frock.

Nowadays the mother-to-be can be smartly attired and well groomed during the whole period of waiting for that "blessed event." The three outfits shown above are excellent examples of the new maternity wardrobes. They were designed by three sisters who named the models "Page Boy," because in olden time a page boy heralded the coming of a son and heir. The coral and aqua quilted crepe jerkin (left) is a becoming style. It is worn here with a white crepe, full-sleeved blouse that ties at the neck with a narrow black tie. The coral skirt has a tiny cut-out in center front. The afternoon frock (right) is made of lime colored crepe with slashed neckline and an accordion pleated skirt. The other afternoon dress (center) is fashioned of pure pen and ink silk print. It has cap sleeves and a drawing adjustment at the waist.

New Animal Health Regulations In Ohio

COLUMBUS, April 9.—Regulations requiring certificates of health for all poultry, hatching eggs, horses and dogs brought into Ohio will go into effect April 15. Agriculture Director Frank N. Farnsworth said today.

Dr. D. C. Hyde, state veterinarian, said the regulation, placing horses, mules, donkeys, goats, poultry and dogs under health control for the first time, also strengthens Ohio's regulations governing importation of cattle, sheep and swine.

It prohibits importation of livestock into Ohio unless accompanied by health certificates executed by a licensed veterinarian recognized by livestock regulatory officer in the state or origin.

Dr. Hyde said the poultry clause primarily is concerned with halting spread of new cattle disease, but also covers a multitude of other ills.

Humble and Proud Meet At Ford Bier

(By Associated Press)
DETROIT, April 9.—The humble matched strides with the proud today past the bier of Henry Ford, whose industrial genius captured the imagination of the world.
The family, its grief at his sudden death locked in the heart, invited the public to share its final respects to Ford, who succumbed Monday night of a cerebral hemorrhage at the age of 83.
They were to come today, the grimy mechanic from the automotive plant, the graying men and women who followed his fabulous rise from the obscurity of a farm near Detroit, and the titans of industry to pay tribute to a dangerous but respected foe.
The body was to lie in state until 10 tonight at Greenfield village, amid the mementoes of Ford's full and colorful life.
At midnight tonight, the vast Ford industrial empire will halt activity.
Ernest R. Beech, executive vice president of the Ford Motor Co. said production will not resume until midnight Thursday for respect to the tall, angular man who built a $100,000,000 firm into an $800,000,000 industrial colossus.
On Thursday, Henry Ford will be borne to downtown Detroit for the last time for funeral services at St. Paul's Episcopal cathedral on Woodward ave., the street whose dust he churned half a century ago with his first automobile.
Again the family has invited the public to participate in final homage.
After the services, however, the body will be taken quietly and in private to a tiny, iron-fenced ceme-

SINATRA

to obtain an assault and battery warrant against Sinatra. The columnist was at the night club with Nat Dallingier, movieland photographer, Mrs. Dallingier and others.
Wright said Dallingier appeared with Mortimer as a witness.
Sinatra, who apparently was unscathed, could not be reached but his publicist, Jack Keller, gave this account of the affair:
"Mortimer was leaving Carlo's with a girl. Frank was in the foyer and heard Mortimer say to the girl 'there's that'—now. It was an epithet no man could take so Frank let him have it. Nobody held Mortimer down and there were no 'heavies' with Frank."
Keller said Sinatra told him later: "When a man calls me the names he did, that's too much for anyone." Keller added that "Frank regrets this, of course, and he'll be available if Mortimer prefers charges."
Still later Mortimer said, "I will obtain a warrant in the morning." He denied he had called Sinatra any names.
"I couldn't have because I didn't know he was there. I was hit from behind. Somebody held me down because I have bruises on my wrists, as well as on my head, and Nat Dallingier pulled two guys off of me."

PHILIPSBURG, Pa., April 9.—One of the largest manhunts ever organized in this central Pennsylvania area continued relentlessly today as searchers refused to give up hopes of finding four-year-old Jimmy Senner alive.
Red-eyed weary searchers stumbled out of the mountain section in the dawn after an all-night search for the second consecutive night, and were rapidly replaced by scores of fresh volunteers.
Little Jimmy was last seen Easter Sunday while playing with his brother Sylvester, 7, and Leona, 5, at their home at nearby Loch Lomond.

'CHICK' KELLY DIES IN EAST LIVERPOOL

Long Illness Fatal To Civil Engineer; Held City and County Jobs

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 9.—John Charles "Chick" Kelly, 79, former city engineer, county commissioner and a descendant of one of the community's pioneers, died early Tuesday morning at his home here. He had been in ill health for several years.
Son of Joseph McKee Kelly and Sarah Thompson Kelly, he was born April 16, 1868, in Huntington county, Pa. His family was active in the early development of this community. His grandfather, James Kelly, was one of the contractors who built the Sandy and Beaver canal when the family moved to Ohio.
Mr. Kelly was graduated from Oberlin college and Pennsylvania Military college at Chester. He was city engineer here for 18 years and was county surveyor for about six years.
In private practice, he was a pioneer in the use of concrete in district construction and built the swimming pool at Rock Springs park, one of the first pools of this kind in the United States.
He also supervised the construction of a section of concrete road on the River road, one of the first.

Laid Out Sebring
Mr. Kelly laid out the village of Sebring when the Sebring brothers left East Liverpool to begin industrial operations in Mahoning county. He also was the surveyor and engineer for many additions in East Liverpool, Wellsville, Newell and Chester.

After his retirement from engineering work he served for eight years as a member of the county commissioners, during which time a modern highway system was built in Columbiana county.
Mr. Kelly was a member of the First Presbyterian church, East Liverpool lodge 258, Elks, and Masonic Lodge, including the Knights Templar and the Shrine, and of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers.
His only survivors are Mrs. Louella Hackett Kelly and several nephews and nieces.
Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the First Presbyterian church in charge of Rev. M. Rudolph Miller. Burial will be in Riverview cemetery.
Serving as pallbearers will be Gerald F. Boyd of Portsmouth, John H. Hill of East Liverpool, Sidney T. Kelly of New York, Joseph K. Vodrey of Canton, and Wendell H. and William H. Vodrey, Jr., both of East Liverpool.

Heads Hospital Group
COLUMBUS, April 9.—Robert M. Porter, superintendent of Columbus Children's hospital, was named today as president-elect of the Ohio Hospital association for the 1948 term.
The president-elect for 1947 is D. A. Endres of the Youngstown Hospital association, who will succeed George L. Losh, superintendent of Robinwood hospital, Toledo.

GOP Chairman Explains Truman's Popularity Rise

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Extra! Republican high command agrees President Truman is more popular than he was last November! But wait a minute. There's a hitch to it.
GOP Chairman Carroll Reece conceded an upswing in the President's popularity in a talk prepared for a group of Republican women today. He said, Mr. Truman had "appropriated" some of the Republican program.
Reece, asserting administration "apologists" have made much of popularity polls "purporting to show that the President is more popular now than he was last November," continued:

"I am inclined to agree that he is somewhat more popular now than he was last November. And as I see it, the reason for this improvement in his position lies in the fact that he has sought to appropriate to himself, ostensibly at least, some important parts of the Republican program. His present anti-Communist crusade is a good example of what I have in mind."

BY HAL BOYLE
BEAUFORT, N. C., April 8.—The world isn't Dr. Herbert F. Prytherch's oyster. But the oyster is his world.

He is the first man ever to grow oysters in a laboratory tank—a feat that may open a new era in the oyster industry.

For 26 of his 48 years Dr. Prytherch, director of the U. S. Fisheries laboratory here, has been prying into the private life of the oyster. He's the No. 1 Boswell of the bivalves.

Convincing oysters they could be happy in a nice sheltered indoor tank was no easy matter. For all their hard-shelled isolation, oysters are moody and sensitive creatures. Transferred to the tanks from their natural habitat, the crusty introverts for years just withdrew into their pearly home, closed its pearly gates and died.

"It took me 15 years to learn a few fundamental determining factors," said Dr. Prytherch. One factor was that the static oyster, like more mobile animals, must have variety and change.

He learned that instead of requiring sea water of a fixed and unvarying salinity, the oyster thrived in the tank only when he introduced currents of fresh and salt water. This simulated the tidal mixing of fresh and salt water that occurs at the mouths of rivers, where wild oysters love to settle down.

"The change is good for them," said Dr. Prytherch, "in the same way that winter and summer changes benefit human beings. Variety is healthy."

Oysters, sedentary as flagpole sitters, can't rove for food and must wait for the sea to bring it to them. They are among the greatest tipplers in nature. They drink 50 gallons of water daily, sifting from it the nourishment they need. This is in the form of plankton, minute organisms which are the bread of the sea, the basic food for all sea life.

Dr. Prytherch grows this food at will in his laboratory tanks.

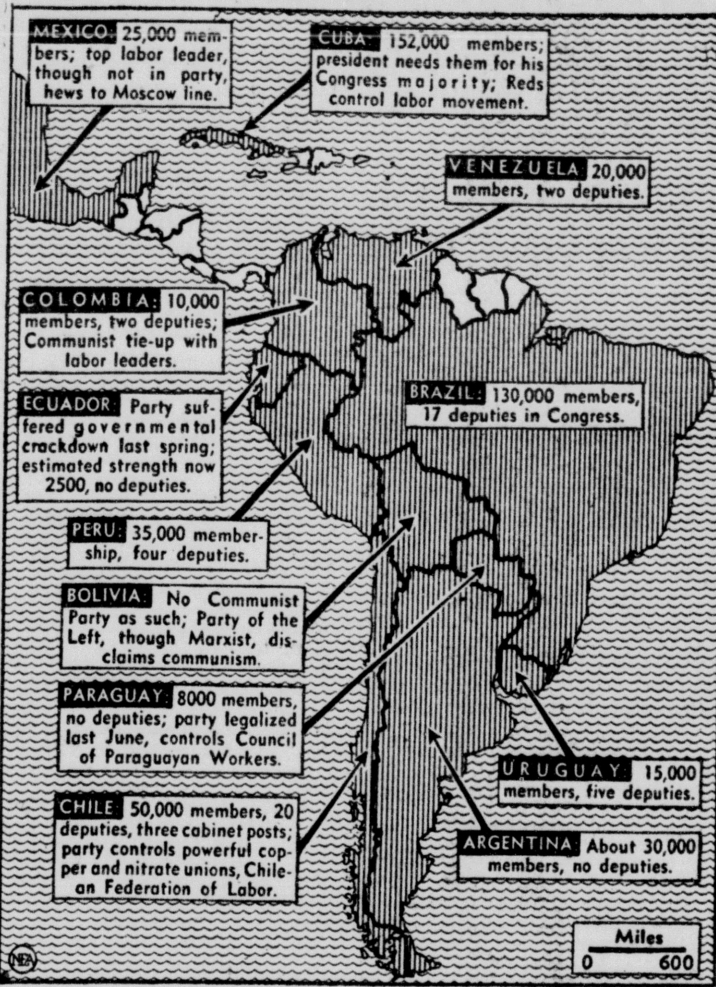

"We don't claim to know all the fundamentals too well," he said. "But basically it is a problem of fertilizing the water to grow the plankton needed by the oyster."

The laboratory is exploring methods of thus growing oysters under controlled conditions on a large scale.

"It is a little early to tell about commercial possibilities," said the scientist. But he pointed out that oyster beds grown under controlled conditions could be protected from destructive storms and raiding starfish and other natural enemies.

Several years ago Dr. Prytherch

Red Activities South of the Border

learned by watching starfish and seagulls how to speed the shucking of oysters.

Starfish open oysters by secreting a fluid that paralyzes the muscles of the oyster that close his shell. Soda water, Dr. Prytherch found, has the same effect.

By taking a tip from the seagulls he found an even simpler way. Gulls open shellfish by flying up and dropping them on the beach. The impact dazes the shellfish. The scientist found he could duplicate this "shellshock" by placing oysters in a violently tumbling barrel while water jets cleaned their shells. The oysters came out bathed, punchdrunk and ready for shucking.

Dr. Prytherch subscribes to the popular belief, held long before mankind turned to monkey glands, that oysters have rejuvenating qualities.

"Oysters are definitely rich in vitamin E, calcium and other minerals," he said, "and there is no need to wait for the 'R' month to eat them. They're good the year around."

Some Highlights of OHIO Edison COMPANY'S Business Operations for 1946

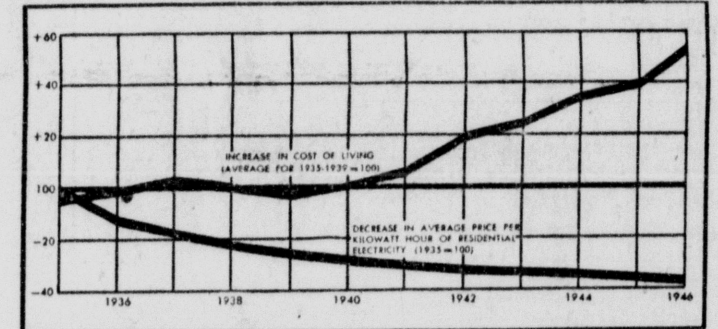

... taken from the annual report to stockholders

THE ANNUAL REPORT of Ohio Edison Company, including the operations of its subsidiary, Pennsylvania Power Company, for the year 1946 has been mailed to stockholders. This report may be of interest to you. Therefore, we are publishing important features of it.

Ohio Edison Company supplies electric service in 237 communities and steam heating service in 3 communities of Ohio. Pennsylvania Power Company supplies electric service in 113 communities of Western Pennsylvania. The total number of electric customers served by the two Companies at the end of the year was 291,561.

Kilowatt hour sales of electricity for all purposes in 1946 were about 3% less than in 1945. Residential sales, which includes sales to farms, increased 11%, and sales to commercial and small power users increased 16%. Sales to industry, however, which made up 53% of all electricity sold, declined approximately 13% from 1945.

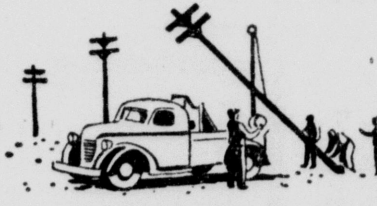

1. Residential and farm customers of the two Companies used more electricity last year than ever before—an average of 1,765 kilowatt hours.

2. The price they paid was the lowest in the Companies' history. It averaged 2.74c a kilowatt hour, or 17% below the United States average.

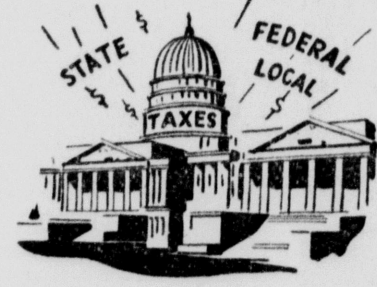

3. Living costs have gone up, but the price of household electricity has come down. As indicated by the chart, the average price paid by Edison system customers has dropped more than a third since 1935. In this time, living costs have risen 53% according to government figures.

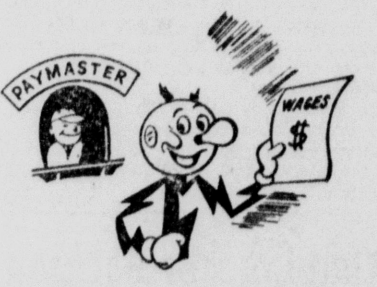

4. Inability to secure materials delayed extending service to many applicants last year. Nevertheless, 7,231 new customers were connected to the lines.

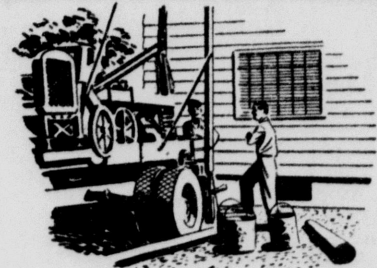

5. The Companies supply electricity to 93% of the farms in the territory served, as compared with 58% for the nation. Farm use of electricity has increased 2 1/2 times in 10 years.

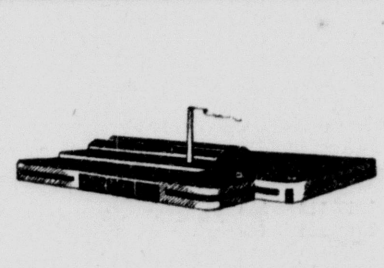

6. Out of every dollar of gross revenue received in 1946, 20c went for taxes. Total tax charges for the year amounted to $7,596,134.

7. Wages paid to all employees, including construction workers, together with costs of group life insurance and pensions, totaled $7,887,539.

8. One possible new use of electricity is for house heating—using well water and the reverse refrigeration cycle. Four such experiments were arranged by the Companies last year.

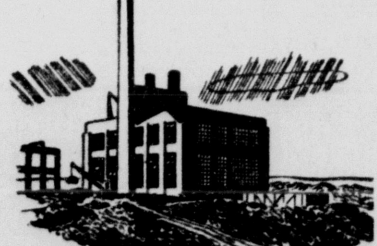

9. One hundred fifty-six new industries—most of them small business enterprises—were established in the territory served in the last 3 years—92 of them in 1946.

10. To meet increasing demands for electricity, new additions are planned, or under way at the Akron, Toronto, Springfield (O.), and New Castle (Pa.), plants. The total is 240,000 kilowatts, largest expansion program in the Companies' history.

11. Forty-nine Edison service cars and trucks are now equipped with 2-way radio to speed restoration of service during storms and other emergencies.

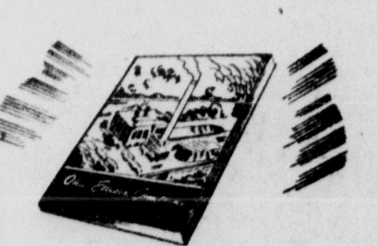

12. One large item in the cost of producing electricity is coal. Last year the average cost increased from $3.72 to $4.05 a ton. The year's coal bill was $6,065,392.

13. At the year's end, 7,466 people owned Edison preferred and common stock and 671 owned Pennsylvania Power preferred stock. Many others owned the Companies' bonds.

14. Many more individuals were indirect investors through life insurance companies, savings banks and pension trusts, which owned over 56% of the Companies' bonds.

15. A copy of the annual report recently mailed to stockholders will be sent to you upon request.

Salem Invitational Basketball Tournament Begun Tuesday

Seven Game Card For Tourney Tonight; Sharpesville Wins

No upsets of any great note were recorded during the first night's play in the 13th annual Salem Invitational basketball tournament in the Memorial building Tuesday.

Six games were played and six winners will move into the second round of play.

The defending champions, Sharpesville Donegans Raiders, won their first tilt over Solon 51-28 without breaking into a run. They appeared to be the team to beat among those who played Tuesday.

Four Salem teams saw action last night, two winning and two losing. The United Tool and Die five took part in what was the best game of the evening when they turned back the Farrell Scholastics 54-39. Bob Miller and Bill Schaeffer paced the scoring for the locals with 14 and 17 respectively.

INDIANS' INFIELD STILL SPARKLES

(By Associated Press) HICKORY, N. C., April 9.—Their outfield may not be anything to brag about, but the Cleveland Indians' infield combination has been setting a terrific pace during the exhibition season.

To date the inner defense has clicked off 44 double plays in 31 games with Manager Lou Boudreau and Joe Gordon spearheading the performances.

The other members of the quartet, Ken Keltner at third and Eddie Robinson at first, have also contributed to the peace of mind of many of the Cleveland hurlers who realize their labors would be much more difficult with less capable talent filling the positions.

Boudreau, Gordon and Robinson turned in another twin killing in yesterday's exhibition game with the New York Giants at Sheffield, Ala., but the Giants won the tussle 4 to 0 to deadlock the series at six games.

Dave Koso and Ken Trinkle throttled the Tribe with two hits. Koso worked six innings and permitted a fourth inning single by Hal Peck and a sixth-inning double by his mound opponent, Bob Kuzava.

All the Giant scoring occurred in the sixth with Kuzava on the rubber, and featured Sid Gordon's three-run homer.

The Indians have optioned Catcher Ralph Weigel to the Baltimore Orioles of the International league.

Northwestern Football Stars Will Use Notes

(By Associated Press) EVANSTON, Ill., April 9.—Northwestern football players are going to have more in their little black books than telephone numbers.

Bob Voigts, the Wildcats' new coach, told 135 candidates reporting for spring drills yesterday that they will be required to keep a notebook to plot each day's drills "like an architect's drawing."

"The books will be subject to inspection by me or any of my four assistants," Voigts said, "and they must be neat."

In setting up his regime, Voigts is following the pattern of Paul Brown, coach of the Cleveland champions. Voigts was a member of Brown's staff last year.

Whip-Cracker Jackson Flicks Cigaret From Lips At 10 Feet

NEW YORK—Whip-cracking has been revived in the United States by John Jackson, a slim, trim and personable chap currently entertaining audiences throughout the country.

Some of the things Jackson does with a bull-whip are little short of amazing. He clips a bit of paper from the lips of an aide, without touching the flesh, of course. He knocks a cigarette from your lips at 10 feet, lights a match in your hand at 11, provided you are willing to stick out your pucker your chalk farm. He picks flies off the wall at 11.

In Australia, whip-cracking while not a major sport, is a diversion among plainmen who use the long serpentine implement to herd cattle. It is just as effective a herding instrument as the lasso which is used by cattle men in the great western states of this country.

John Jackson's father, reared in Australia, brought a bull-whip to this country, schooled his youngest in the art, so this native New Yorker has been in the whip-cracking sport since he was a small boy.

BY FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor
COLUMBUS, April 9.—Bill Veeck, sport-shirted prexy of the Cleveland Indians, believes a post-season series between his club and the Cincinnati Reds—for the major league championship of Ohio—would be quite a thing.

And Veeck, always a guy looking for ideas which will make the turnstiles click merrily, plans to do something about it.

Warren Giles, boss of the Reds, is a bit cool toward the plan, but Veeck says he's going to talk it over with the Cincinnati skipper—and the colorful Clevelander with the crew haircut is a persuasive talker.

Veeck's idea is to make such a series an annual affair, except when one of the clubs makes the World Series, which would make it a fairly regular fixture the way things have been going.

Bill favors a five or seven-game series, with the players cutting deeply into the receipts melon as they do in the big classic. That assured cut at the end of each season, Bill opines, might halt some of the barnstorming which is becoming more and more prevalent.

As part of his argument, that such a series would draw well, and consequently pay off, Veeck declared he thought the fans down Cincinnati way probably would flock to the park to see Bob Feller and the other Cleveland stars in action, and that the same would be true in Cleveland where the folks might like a look at the National loopers.

"We might even play one game in Columbus," Veeck said, "to give the Central Ohioans a quick glance at the boys on the state's two big league clubs. They read a lot about the fellows on the clubs, but they seldom see them. This series would give everyone a chance to see all the Ohio stars on one field."

"If we could work it into an annual fixture, I believe it would really amount to something after a while, and would be eagerly awaited by the fans."

"I'm going to see Warren and try to work out something. I believe we can get together."

Giles said he didn't see any reason for such a series, and that he didn't think it would draw enough fans to make it worthwhile—but he hasn't listened to Veeck's arguments yet.

Both Zines and King repeated during the season, Zines two days later against King's Ohio Grill out-fitted 7-0. King duplicated his feat on July 2 against the Eagles 7-0.

Orrie Wright, part-time pitcher for the Salem China last season, tossed a no-hit one to defeat Demings 5-0 on May 21. It was Wright's third in league history.

Yacovee hurler Johnny McQuiston turned in a top-notch on June 11, blanking the Sip and Bite 5-0. Walt Holmes and Kenny Brudery, two Deming pitchers, combined to beat the Salem Lunch 5-1 in a no-hitter, Holmes going four innings and Brudery three on June 18.

The hitting improved during the final stages of the season and Dale Ritchie (Salem China) was the only no-hit hurler in August and September. He tossed one no-hitter, 2-0, against Demings on July 12 and managed a second on Aug. 19 when he whipped Washingtonville 7-0 in the Shagnessy playoffs in the National loop.

SUSPENSION MEANS WIDE OPEN BATTLE IN TENNIS CIRCLE

Pauline Betz Out of Race As Four Others Get Set For Chance

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, April 9.—The suspension of tennis champion Pauline Betz by the U. S. Lawn Tennis association means, among other things, that there will be a feminine battle royal at Forest Hills late in August such as hasn't been seen there in some years.

Miss Betz, who with Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke was removed from the amateur ranks yesterday because of a projected tour of the pair as professionals, had come to dominate the women's division almost as thoroughly as Alice Marble did just before her, but there has been a terrific scrap for second place.

Four girls, three of them from the West coast and one from Florida, must be figured in the running for the crown snatched from Pauline's blonde head by the tennis moguls. As the executive committee of the tennis association, which would hear an appeal by Miss Betz, will not meet until September, there is no possibility of her defending the title.

Louise Brough, Margaret Osborne and Mrs. Dorothy Canning Todd, all Californians, and Doris Hart of Miami form the contending quartet. Any one of them could take the title.

Louis is going to make the 24th defense of his diadem in New York in June. Offers for any appearance anywhere else this year are just wasting telegraph tolls.

Joe Louis Looks For Challenger
Takes On International Aspect As British Champ Is Mentioned

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, April 9.—The quest for a challenger for Joe Louis' heavyweight title assumed an international aspect today with Matchmaker Nat Rogers gone to England to stalk the only foe the champion is interested in meeting for his scheduled June tea party in Yankee stadium.

The objective of Mike Jacobs' emissary is, of course, to sign empire title-holder, Bruce Woodcock, who at the moment is playing hard to get.

Meanwhile, the line of intrepid, would-be challengers is growing almost daily. To the latest offer—a $200,000 guarantee for a ten-round bout in Salt Lake City with Melio Bettina—Joe replied with words that appear destined to become almost routine in the next few months.

"Personally I don't think I'd go

The carburetor usually is not the cause of engine trouble. If your car's carburetor worked all right yesterday, chances are it will be OK today and for some time to come. Change in carburetor performance develops slowly.

If you are having engine trouble and think it's the carburetor, bring the car in. We'll stage a manifold vacuum test and tell you what's what right away.
